The main leatures of the afternoon session were the children's meeting, an address by Miss Taylor, of Wheeling, and an essay by Mrs J. A. Smith.

The closing session in the evening is always considered the most interesting, which fact accounted for the largest audience which has ever yet assembled in the Town Hail. Despite the disagreeable condition of the roads, the people flocked in from all points, and the scating capacity of the hail was inadequate to accommodate the crowd. In some parts it was little less than a perfect jam, but all enjoyed the situation, as it was out a token to the visiting strangers of the interest felt in an important branch of religious work in the community. The topic, "How shall we deepen the interest in Sabbath School work in our church?" was to have been discussed by Prof. Hagerman, but as he was numble to attend, Mr. List again as he was unable to attend, Mr. List again

The concluding topic, "The Rewards of Faithfulness," was ably handled by Rev. Messra. Grier and Wilson, after which were a general conference and adjournment. Rev.
